Gas Quality Policy

MRT hereby gives notice of the circumstances in which it will exercise its discretion with respect to receipts of natural gas that do not meet the criteria of the General Terms & Conditions of Section 4, Quality in its FERC Gas Tariff. As a general policy, MRT seeks to make as much gas available to its customers as it can, without risking impairment of the integrity of its facilities and maintaining merchantability. Accordingly, to the extent that MRT can blend gas supply receipts that do not meet certain of the criteria of Section 4.2, Specifications, including, but not limited to, oxygen (4.2(b)), carbon dioxide (4.2(c)), nitrogen (4.2(d)) and water and hydrocarbons (4.2(f)), and such gas can be accepted without risk of impairing the integrity of MRT's facilities, and can be commingled with other gas supplies received to achieve merchantability, as a general policy, MRT will receive such gas.

However, MRT will not generically waive its tariff criteria with respect to "Heating Value", in Section 4.2(j).

These policies will be applied in a manner that is not unduly discriminatory. This posting in no way intended to deviate from or modify the rights, obligations and responsibilities placed on MRT and Customers, respectively, in MRT's FERC Gas Tariff.
